CODE OF CONDUCT FOR WORKING TESTS

All tests are run under UK Kennel Club Field Trial rules and regulations (J Regs).

PDF download at this link: <https://www.thekennelclub.org.uk/media/3465/field-trial-j-regulations.pdf>

Judges are invited on merit and experience by the Club and will judge according to the Kennel Club J Regs.

Competitors will receive a zero if a dog fails or commits a Serious Fault (according to J Regs) in any part of a test including in a multiple exercise. It is the competitor's responsibility to ensure that they have read and understood the J Regs and the definition of Serious Faults before entering a test.

Competitors are expected to conduct themselves in accordance with the Kennel Club code of conduct which specifies the sort of behaviour expected of those who take part in GWTs and Field Trials, namely:

Ensuring KC licensed events are friendly and welcoming

Being co-operative and above all creating a safe environment for all to enjoy their sport

Behaving in an appropriate fashion, showing good manners and respect towards others, including the host, competitors, officials and judges

Not impugning the decision of the Judges or criticising the host, ground or helpers

Please note:

Any verbal communication with a judge should take place after judging has taken place and must be conducted in a polite and professional manner.

Abusive or aggressive behaviour towards anyone - including judges, other competitors, organisers will not be tolerated under any circumstances.

Mobile phones should be turned off or on silent during the Test.

Any complaints should be logged in the KC Incident book which can be requested from either the Chief Steward or WT Secretary.

It is important that competitors should stay until the presentations at the end of the Test in order to thank the hosts properly for allowing use of their ground, and also to thank the helpers, judges and club officials for giving up their day.

Remember

Most of the judges, helpers, committee members and officers currently run dogs and are missing the opportunity to compete, in order to organise and help for your benefit.

Please volunteer to help at Tests so that others have the opportunity to compete with their own dogs. You will learn a lot by helping Tests and Field Trials.

The number of entries for Working Tests in recent years has been very high. This is very good for our sport and very much encouraged by the Dove Valley committee. Getting sufficient helpers, in addition to the committee members and their families, to run the events is essential. However, getting help is very difficult and the events are run by the committee and a very small group of loyal, hardworking people who are generous with their time, some of which don't even run in competitions.

We therefore need to make two key points:

1. Please try to volunteer to help at one of our tests. If you run in the open class, please try and assist at a novice event and vice versa.
2. If we cannot get sufficient people to assist in the running of a test, we reserve the right to limit the entry numbers to 48 unless otherwise stated, so that the test runs well and you all have an enjoyable and worthwhile day.

Thank you in advance

The Dove Valley Committee
